

William and Littleton Bagwell, Their Descendants and Historical Nuggets

By Clarence Crocker

In compiling this history of the William and Littleton Bagwell households, I have used census records, obituaries, years 1923-1929 not available and death certificates which unfortunately are not available before 1917 in Spartanburg, estate papers, land conveyance records, grave markers and every other means known to me to confirm relationships.

Census records were written as the Enumerator understood the registrant who often had little to no education which led to numerous mistakes in spelling of names, dates and ages. Most of the Bagwell ladies and many of the men signed the legal documents recorded herein with an X mark with only the Judge and witness able to sign their full names.

Because so many names are the same, I have numbered the names of William and Littleton Bagwell's children to help in reference. Asterisks indicate further information follows.

I have tried to copy as recorded and corrected only the obvious, where I have erred, I apologize.
